

$60,000 SUIT IN MYSTIC

Fields S. Pendleton and Others Are Made Defendants—
Benner Steamship Line of New Jersey is the Plaintiff—
Former Holdings of Gilbert Transportation Co. Are Attached.

One of the big suits that has been brought and is returnable before the superior court in November is that brought for $60,000 damages by the Benner line, a New Jersey steamship company, against Fields S. Pendleton, Edwin S. Pendleton of New York.

Property in Mystic to the value of $60,000 has been attached. It is property that was formerly owned by the Gilbert Transportation company. The property attached consists of seven tracts of land and buildings in Mystic including the Gilbert block. Several insurance companies in which the Gilbert block which was destroyed by fire several weeks ago was insured to the amount of $37,000 have also been attached.

The suit is brought to recover payment of a judgment rendered against the defendant in favor of the plaintiff by the district court of the United States in New York in August, 1914. The complaint alleges that on Aug. 9, 1915, at New York, the district court of the United States and for the southern district of New York in a suit then pending between the Benner line and the defendant, Fields S. Pendleton, adjudged that the defendant should pay to the plaintiff $42,244.27 and $2,086.74 as costs.

The suit in which the judgment was given arose out of the loss of a steamer at sea. The Benner Co. chartered a vessel for carrying a cargo of goods. The steamer was lost at sea and the Benner Co. brought suit to recover payment of the cargo and was given judgment after the suit which was brought in November, 1911, had been pending in the courts for four years.

The Benner line alleges that the judgment has not been paid. It is claimed that subsequent to the rendition of an interlocutory judgment, which was given in October, 1914, Fields S. Pendleton owned property in Mystic, formerly owned by the Gilbert Transportation which he purchased at a receiver's sale, and that voluntarily and without consideration fraudulently and with intent and for the purpose of preventing the plaintiff from collecting the judgment to be rendered in the cause, and for the purpose of concealing the property from attachment and execution and with intent to prevent the plaintiff from being taken on a legal process and hinder, delay and defraud the plaintiff in the collection of the due to the plaintiff, the defendant transferred the property to Edwin S. Pendleton and Winfield S. Pendleton.

It is claimed that the property is and was the property of Fields S. Pendleton notwithstanding the pretended transfer to the co-defendants and it is alleged that Fields S. Pendleton now has no property liable to attachment and levy upon execution other than the property unlawfully transferred to the other defendants and that he is considerably indebted and insolvent.

Subsequent to the time of the pretended transfer to Edwin and Winfield Pendleton the property and buildings were insured to the amount of $37,000 in several insurance companies and later was destroyed by fire when Edwin and Winfield Pendleton claimed that the loss should be paid to them.

The money due from the insurance company, it is alleged, is the property of Fields S. Pendleton, despite the pretended transfer and notwithstanding the record title was in Edwin S. and Winfield S. Pendleton. The plaintiff claims an order and decree that the transfer be set aside and that the insurance company due from the several insurance companies be adjudged the property of Fields S. Pendleton.

The complaint and writ was drawn by Hull, McGuire and Hull, attorneys for the plaintiff company, and the papers were served by Deputy Sheriff J. H. Tubbs.

TO LEVEL EIGHT ACRES AT EAST NEW LONDON.

Next Step in Development of New Steamship Terminal.

As the next step in the development steamship terminal at East New London, the excavation and leveling of an area of eight acres lying between the pier and the tracks of the Central Vermont railway has just been ordered by the harbor commission. The operation will be one of the most extensive in the terminal construction, entailing as it does the digging and removal of 50,000 cubic yards of material which will be utilized as fill in the reclaimed area north of the New Haven tracks. Steam shovels will be used in the work.

The large flat surface which will be thus acquired will be devoted either to a terminal railway yard to warehouses or to industrial building sites. In carrying out the project it will be necessary to demolish or remove the former Coon residence in Sixteenth street, now occupied by the T. A. Scott Co. as field office. Several bids have been received by the commission for the building to be moved elsewhere. It is also possible the houses occupied by the harbor commission will also be disposed of.

The change which will be wrought by the clearing away of this large section of Winthrop Neck will be a valuable one. It is planned to proceed with it immediately.

CALICO OF TOBACCO

New Haven Station Botanist Discusses Destructive Disease.

The report of the botanist of the Connecticut Agricultural station at New Haven, a pamphlet of 37 pages and 8 plates, is chiefly devoted to a discussion of Calico of Tobacco.

This disease, which has been a pest and sometimes is very destructive in the tobacco regions of Connecticut and Massachusetts.

The precise cause of the disease is not yet determined, but the work of Dr. Clinton, of which this report is a summary, has demonstrated how the disease is spread—chiefly apparently from the seed bed—and what precautions it is wise or necessary to take against it. It is certain that by carefully following these directions either the disease may be avoided or its injury greatly abated. The report will be mailed on request.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE MAKES DREAM COME TRUE.

Daughters of the State Can Secure Higher Education Here.

It had been a dream for many years, Connecticut, well supplied, for its size, with colleges for men, lacked a college for women, says the New Haven Register. The daughters of the state were compelled to seek Massachusetts or New York or Pennsylvania if they did not wander further to obtain a liberal education. There were abundant and substantial reasons, aside from state pride, for desiring that this state have its own college for women.

Yet it remained a dream. Effort that told for the fulfillment of it did not begin until March, 1903, when a group of Connecticut college women, notably three of Hartford, took up in earnest the task of starting a college for women in Connecticut. They, and the associates who partook of their vision and their faith, now see the dream coming true. We have a Connecticut College for Women. It holds 34 acres just above New London, on the banks of the Thames, commanding one of the noblest land and water views in all New England. On these grounds there are now six completed buildings. Plant and Blackstone dormitories are the gift of Morton F. Plant. A science building, substantially by the gift of the city of New London, has been named New London hall. The other buildings are Thames hall, a refectory and a general heating plant.

The college starts with a faculty of 20 men and women and has over 100 students enrolled in the entering class. The opening date is next Monday, Sept. 27. Furnishing and equipment are practically complete, and the curriculum is fully arranged and the teaching force adequate. It is an auspicious beginning.

The complaint has already been made that the cost of tuition at this new college compares unfavorably with that at old established colleges for women in New England and elsewhere. This is unfortunate but inevitable. It will continue to be so until the college acquires what will bring it up to par with the abundance of Connecticut and other states, an adequate endowment. Its great needs now are reputation, faculty, and equipment. These will come true in time. But the dream is coming true.

FIELD MOUSE AND MOLE

Among Shades Favored for the Autumn—Many Blocked Hats Shown—Hats for Children—New Street Dresses and Waists.

As the temperature lowers, women's thoughts turn to seasonable garments and hats and there is increased buying of suits, wraps, furs and other pretty things, that a sudden cold snap may not lay anyone open to a charge of unpreparedness.

A modish suit shown yesterday was of navy chiton broadcloth, with military collar and cuffs which was a novel combination of fur and velvet. The natty coat had five rows of braiding down the back. The skirt was graceful as to length and cut. Fancy buttons gave the finishing touch.

Green velvet was the material of a smart suit, its coat with ripple back. It was effectively embroidered in green and gold. Skunk bands formed the trimming.

Nearly a chic brown broadcloth suit with a fur coat and trimming of fur excited universal admiration. There is a brisk demand for long coats just now. One shown Thursday was developed in royal blue duvetyne and had trimming of lynx. It was superbly lined in flowered satin. Nothing could be more elegant than a Hudson seal coat, three-quarters length, cut full. The beautiful trimming was ermine, making a garment fit for a queen.

Serge and Taffeta Combinations. Taffeta is to the fore in popularity this fall. It was well shown in a smart dress on view yesterday. An African brown serge, in straight military effect. This had a box plaited skirt, the waist of combined serge and taffeta having long sleeves and gracefully rolling collar. Fancy buttons gave a chic touch.

Charming was a black satin street dress, with coat effect. The trimmings were smart bands of black panne and large buttons. The high collar was edged with fitch fur.

Blocked Hats Favored.

The line of blocked hats is large this season, some especially beautiful models being shown. Tailored hats come in many new and natty ideas.

In hat trimmings, there is an endless variety of ostrich pompons, military brushes, feather and fur combinations. Smartest novelties, flowers in artistically shaped velvet, metals, mother-of-pearl, etc.

For children there were never more enticing offerings in trim little hats of velvet, corduroy, and other seasonable materials. These are trimmed in the most fetching and daintiest fashions, fur ornaments, odd conceits in feathers, ribbons, applique flowers and cunning ornaments.

Waist Combinations.

As already noted, this is to be a season of sheer materials in waists.

The designers are providing some charming novelties in combinations with georgette crepe, noticeably net. These lovely offerings come in the most attractive combinations, the crepe matching suits or skirts. A black with white design, for mourning, is especially beautiful.

Street Dresses.

Attention was centered yesterday on an afternoon dress in bottle green tulle, its skirt having a five-inch flared self-hem with cord finish. The dainty waist had a flat collar and cuffs of organdy.

Equally modish was a black crepe meter dress with sail tunic trimmed with maroon. The waist in bolero effect, was trimmed with the maroon, had georgette crepe sleeves, the fur-trimmed cuffs having lace finish. There was an open collar and georgette vestee which gave a very smart effect.

A suit of this hue was of semi-military cut and was trimmed with braid and beaver, having a 34 inch coat. The plain flare skirt had mannish side pockets and the new kick plaits at the side.

The same mouse gray was the hue of a pretty turban in hatter's plush, which had binding and band of dark green velvet. For finish there was an American Beauty rose.

Mole, too, is a favorite shade. A mole velvet rolling sailor had an exceedingly effective band and fancy of fifth fur.

No more description can give an adequate idea of the style, finish and charm of the garments, hats, and waists which dealers are now displaying.

W. C. T. U. COUNTY

BANNER TO NANTIC

Awarded at Annual Convention at Mystic—Mrs. Randall Re-elected President.

The program at Wednesday's meeting at Mystic of the annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union of New London county, which was held at the Methodist Episcopal church was begun with Rev. Mr. Coburn of the Old Mystic Baptist church leading the devotional exercises. The reports read were of much interest and encouragement to those active in the cause of temperance.

Mrs. C. E. Newbury, president of the Mystic branch, was appointed a committee on courtesy; Miss Nellie J. Starr of Uncasville a committee on credentials; and Mrs. James E. F. Brown of Mystic, committee on press work. The treasurer reported a balance brought over from last year of $22.18; total receipts this year of $126.85; expenditures of $78.42; leaving a balance on hand of $96.11.

In the reports submitted by the superintendents of the various departments that of the county fair department was as interesting as any. Miss Gross has had charge of this work for the past 11 years and her story of its growth and development was instructive and inspiring. The W. C. T. U. booth at the Norwich fair has now become a regular institution and is regarded as an important part of the exhibition. More parcels may be checked, drinking cups purchased, and aprons, etc., are sold. This year a feature of the fair work was the distribution of prohibition tracts, containing a map of the United States with the prohibition states specially indicated in white. Miss Day, the secretary, and superintendent of finger missions, gave a full report of her department. She said that there had been distributed 1,630 bouquets by the different unions of the county during the year, 1,511 visits to the sick and shut-ins had been made, 390 glasses of jelly, 1,038 garments, 69 jars of preserves and $204.19 distributed. The secretary spoke of Miss Dietrich's tour of the county making speeches, of the work being accomplished throughout the state, and she alluded to the sums that had been raised by the yards of dimes methods.

Niantic Wine County Banner. The county banner for the largest gain in attendance was awarded Niantic union with a gain of 88 per cent.

In the absence of the state president the noonday prayer meeting was conducted by Mrs. L. K. Fuller of Scotland. A solo, Beautiful Hour of Noon-tide, was sung pleasingly by Mrs. J. Elwood Lathrop. After the basket luncheon there was an address by Rev. A. F. Barnshaw, pastor of the Mystic Congregational church, and another also by Mrs. Lathrop.
